

My Medical Interests

Woman's health: I provide pap smears, breast exams, pregnancy testing, and birth control, including IUDs. I treat menstrual problems, menopause troubles, and osteoporosis. I also work to prevent long-standing illnesses like heart disease, and help with emotional issues like depression. I can provide early prenatal care, but I no longer deliver babies.

Care for children: I care for many children from birth to adulthood. My practice is always open to new babies. I provide check-ups, vaccines, and help with parenting issues; I treat ear infections, asthma and other common childhood illnesses. As is the case in adult medicine, if we need a specialist's help, I make referrals and coordinate care.

Preventing disease: Preventing diseases and complications from diseases is central to my practice. I encourage habits that improve health. I help patients understand their medical problems and suggest ways to prevent complications from them. I coordinate testing for early detection and prevention of diseases like heart disease and cancer.
